

Regression Testing

- Repeat the same tests after each "build" to demonstrate code not adversely affected by fault removal and other maintenance activities (especially during pre-release)
- Testers should tell which existing test cases are not relevant
- Testers should add new test cases if they are relevant